

BIG BLUE CART PROGRAM

Most residents of Pennsylvania's rural communities do not have access to curbside recycling opportunities. Sparse populations and large distances between homes and businesses make the economics of rural recycling a challenge.

Fortunately, recycling programs continue to evolve in Lawrence and Mercer Counties. Technological and recyclable processing advances have changed and helped haulers address many of the challenges associated with rural curbside recycling programs.

Thanks to grants from the Pennsylvania Department of Environmental Protection, Lawrence and Mercer Counties were able to provide a few thousand recycling carts to foster rural curbside recycling.

There are significant benefits to the program.

- You can recycle at home at your leisure.
- No more trips to a drop-off recycling site thereby saving you time, money, and fuel.
- You can recycle more materials.
- Greenhouse gas emissions are reduced.

Depending on your hauler, your recyclables and trash may be picked up with the same truck. Don't worry! The hauler is using split bodied trucks that have separate compartments for recyclables and trash. This helps the overall efficiency of the collection and transportation, reduces greenhouse gas emissions, and wear and tear on our roads.
